

Chelsea Fine

Administrative Assistant

Chelsea became involved in AAPA after moving back to the islands with her family in 2013. She fell in love with ballet after enrolling her daughter in classes at AAPA. Her love for the studio, its philosophy and the dancing community that surrounds it grows each year. Although her full-time job in Wailea keeps her busy at night, she devotes her afternoons to helping at AAPA's boutique and assisting with many studio needs. If you can't find her in the office, she'll likely be in the Studio's vault, brainstorming new costume ideas for an upcoming show.
